Devoteam daVinci is a consulting company for IT solutions made to meet the exacting demands of the industry, banking, healthcare or public government sectors. It is listed as one of the ten best employers in Norway. In Oslo, the internationally active company employs round 90 people, who recently moved into their newly designed offices.

Acoustic elements suspended from the ceiling help to reduce noise pollution in the open-space area. For the workstations, the invitation bench system was used. The open up office chair is used for seating
